

PINELANDS/WORLD WATER MONITORING DAY - 2012

Around the planet people are monitoring local water quality helping to safeguard natural resources on a international scale.

Teachers and students are invited to join staff from the NJ Pinelands Commission, NJ Department of Environmental Protection, and Jacques Cousteau National Estuarine

Research Reserve to participate in World Water Monitoring Day activities at Batsto Village in Washington Township, Burlington County on October 26, 2012 from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. (Rain date - November 2, 2012).

At this event students will sample water quality and experience first hand the natural and cultural resources of the Pinelands. Participants are asked to bring along a bag lunch. ("carry in, carry out").

Teachers must pre-register by contacting the Pinelands Commission, at (609) 894-7300 ext. 125 or e-mail info@njpinelands.state.nj.us. Schools will be selected on a first-come, first-served basis.

For more details about World Water Monitoring Day, please log on to:
www.worldwatermonitoringday.org.

